[General]	[General]	Oppose in part	I have farmed the area known as the Giants grave for the last 30 years. I was surprised to be notified it was a Urupa and a significant site to Māori, as I had not heard of this before. The landmark is about 15 m high eight or 9 ha in area And stands alone next to State Highway six and 5 km inland from the sea. It is pakihi land quite infertile and has been flipped 20 years ago to put into pasture. At this stage I have no issue about it being a significant site for Māori, but would like to know the justification behind it and the implications of it	Clarification of site and reasons behind the classification as site of significance to Māori as a urupa
