My submission: i have no idea what this rubbish is about we are on the highest point on river bank our home has never flooded when we built all those years ago had all permits from council to build where we are 3 metres from sea level also home is 700 above highest point none of the homes on this top bank have flooded yes our car sheds did. my husband spent next 8 months after last won building a large concrete wall to protect the lower part of our property also have heavy duty water pump ,as far as i can see this is a land grab for anyone living near river or ocean ,any water that came into our property came from the entry of Snodgrass where the main road is low. has flooded there for years so maybe fix the road hight would be a great start then the water wont be able to come up our road and flood all the low-lying properties
